

to you to travel - I do not know how long I shall be in Manchester & August 1855 I have nothing to offer regular to communicate, & besides all my other duties today have exhanded me. You did wisely & well to discriminate in my letter upon Mr.

& Miss Estlin in the Liberator. It was a difficult theme on which to venture a letter - I was glad to have done no worse.

Mr. Estlin wrote me the other day on a very important matter that he had wholly forgotten for many weeks - This led me to think that Mr. Estlin's communications might possibly be concealed in the same pigeon.

hole - so I wrote at once to enquire and found it even a less getting ~~fixed~~ him at time forgetful much to be repeated that pity it is that ~~some~~ will be all in.

I have written to my family to day to think it very possible I may see them by the last of October My own affairs seem to require this, though not one word of arguing would be needed to retain me here - only let me see & feel that it is for the best.

I have a couple of Columns this week in the Register It will come to the Liberator Channing will not thank me it, nor will Pierpont or Dr. Plummer What an article that is in the ard of July 21st (I believe) on the Bible Society organ! It is admirable, no man who wrote it.

I am holding a meeting now every week & publishing a great deal in sides - shall go next week to Scotland for a month With sincere respects as regards to you and yours, & to the office company. I remain as ever. P. P.
